

SUMMIT DAILY

THURSDAY, MARCH 17, 2022

SUMMITDAILY.COM | FREE

ROCKY MOUNTAIN 'LITTLE HORN' SPOTTING

ELAINE COLLINS/COURTESY PHOTO

A Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep yearling is pictured Wednesday along Interstate 70. To see your photos featured in print or online, email submissions to share@summitdaily.com.

Housing project near Dillon hits new hurdle

Jefferson Geiger
jgeiger@summitdaily.com

A workforce housing project currently in the works for Summit County Road 51 likely won't be annexed into the town of Dillon, and Town Council is now wondering why it should participate in the development.

Town Planner Ned West told council at a work session Tuesday, March 15, that the U.S. Forest Service will not apply for the annexation of the land.

"What's in it for us now?" council member Jen Barchers asked. "Why would we be a part of this?"

The project involves an 11-acre site currently used by the Forest Service for housing, a maintenance shop and

DILLON, 3

School district selects new leader

Libby Stanford
estanford@summitdaily.com

Anthony Byrd's energy, enthusiasm and bilingual speaking skills won over Summit School District board members as they finalized their selection of a new superintendent Tuesday, March 15.

For more than four hours

Tuesday evening, the board pored over letters of recommendation, interviews, stakeholder surveys, essays and applications documenting the skills and goals of three finalists: Anthony Byrd, Bethany Massey and Sheldon Rosenkrance.

While all three of the finalists impressed the board with their experience and dedication to the position, it was Byrd's energy, skill set and commitment that ultimately swayed the board.

Although the board announced him as its selection

Tuesday night, Byrd had not yet signed a contract with the district as of Wednesday afternoon. If he accepts the job, the new superintendent

BYRD, 2

WEATHER FORECAST.WEATHER.GOV

Today

High: 29° Low: 4°
Precipitation: 70%

Xxday

High: 36° Low: 9°
Precipitation: 0%

Avalanche forecast

Moderate

AVALANCHE.STATE.CO.US

ABUSE OF CORPSE CASE ENDS IN 2ND MISTRIAL

Former funeral home owners' joint trial sees delay due to lack of acceptable potential jurors in day three of proceedings — Page 4

Happy Hour Daily
3pm to 6pm

Dinner
3pm to 10pm

Frisco's Neighborhood
Restaurant & Bar

5th SAVE GRILLE

423 E Main St | Frisco, CO
(corner of 5th and Main)
970.668.3733
www.5thavegrille.com

ADD VALUE. REMODEL.
Start the process with us today to update your Kitchen and Bathrooms for Summer!
We provide FULL SERVICE from design to finish.

THE FRISCO
REMODELING COMPANY

970-668-1880
Mon-Fri 9:30 - 5:30 • Sat-Sun 10 - 4
(earlier or later by appointment)

821 N. Summit Blvd
Frisco, CO 80443

THE FRISCO FLOORING
COMPANY